Jesus-style Discipleship

How to live a life worthy of your calling

Speaker

Liz Ransford

About our Teaching Day

This annual event is a day of great teaching, delicious food and good company, when we reflect on how we should live in the light of what Christ has done for us.

When Saturday 30th March 2019 | 9:30am - 4:30pm

Where Christ Church, Stockton Lane, York, YO31 1JG
Car parking is available at the venue, which can also be easily reached by the Coastliner bus

Cost Liz, our speaker, feels passionately that this Teaching Day should be open to all and free of charge. On this occasion, therefore, there are no pre-pay booking fees. A voluntary donation on the day, however, would help us cover our costs if this is something you feel you would like to do.

About the Speaker

Liz has lived in York with her husband, John, for twenty years, during which time they have had the privilege of serving at The Belfrey.

Liz's prime commitment now is as part of the leadership of Exodus. It is here that a passion for revival has been stirred and continues to burn, with a particular focus for Liz in seeing York's poorest and most vulnerable people come to know the love of God.

The teaching planned for this day is aimed at freeing women to see the full extent of what their calling in the Lord may be. This will come through an understanding of discipleship in Jesus' day and taking a fresh look at scriptures that have previously limited the role of women's ministry.
